~~Suggestion for Part III~~

1. Delete.
 2. Move to Part II.

Explanation (if any) :

We question the wisdom of selectively placing Charter provisions in the Treaty. This does not aid legal clarity because it divorces the substantive provisions from the horizontals – so we delete paragraph 1.

In the light of that, we question the need for paragraph 2 to go into Part I of the Treaty and suggest that (as a classic Treaty base for legislation) it ought to go into Part II. Once in Part II, it ought to be consistent with all the entirety of Directive 95/46 (which will in any case continue in force as a result of Article B on legal continuity). This should include language making it clear where EU data protection rules do not apply.
