Article III - 329

The Staff Regulations of Union officials and the Conditions of Employment of other servants of the Union shall be laid down by a European law of the Council. The law shall be adopted after consulting the other institutions concerned.

Explanation (if any):

Negotiations concerning reforms of the Staff Regulations are already characterised by complexity and extreme duration. The involvement of the European Parliament as an additional actor would delay the settlement of a reform disproportionately. Although a strengthening of the European Parliament for democratic reasons (if the EP has to deal with legislation that affects citizens of Member States) is to be welcomed generally, this line of reasoning has no bearing on the internal regulations which have an effect on the staff only.
